English Menu

Back in time...

In 1956 grandmother Sonja left East-Java in Indonesia for the Netherlands. As Indonesian basic ingredients were hardly available in our country, she and her husband decided to start a businesses to sell tofu, tempeh and kecap door-to-door to the Indonesian community. Slowly this became one of the first little shops that sold Asian products in the Netherlands. Exactly at this spot.

Grandmother Sonja started with two small tables and four little chairs. At a buffet, you could compose your own menu by pointing at the dishes you wanted. Led by her daughter Shirley Schuit, this has grown into a restaurant, named Rasasari (which means: different tastes).

Together with her daughter, grandmother Sonja, who is now over the 80 years old, still cooks with the same passion. The food still tastes like in 1957 when grandmother started her business. Family and enjoying food together, are one of the most important things to us. We hope that you enjoy our family recipes and feel at home.

Did you know that our Rendang simmers 5 hours?

All our dishes are craftproducts and are prepared with a lot of love and passion. Our rendang (beef with coconut) simmers for 5 hours, which makes us incapable of cooking on order. Every day we use fresh spices such as serih, laos, ginger and daun salam.

Take a seat and enjoy your company. Meanwhile our team is preparing your own composed menu, so that you can enjoy an Indonesian rice table.
